Timeline — Halmidi to Karnataka (450–2023)

Reading the arc: a 1,500-year continuum of indigenous dynasties (Kadambas → Chalukyas → Rashtrakutas → Hoysalas → Vijayanagara → Wodeyars), an interlude of Deccan sultanates and Mysore's Hyder–Tipu, then the administrative merger of five fragments into a single Kannada state in 1956, renamed Karnataka in 1973.

The First Kannada : The Halmidi Inscription

- 450 CE, Halmidi village (Hassan district).
- The oldest known Kannada inscription , issued under the Kadamba dynasty.
- Proves Kannada was an administrative & literary language over 1,500 years ago.
- Kannada later became the first language other than Sanskrit to receive classical status (2008).
- A founding document of Kannada identity.

The Deccan Sultanates : Malik Kafur's shadow

Gol Gumbaz

- 1310–11 : Malik Kafur (Alauddin Khalji's general) raids the Deccan, sacking the Hoysala capital & Devagiri.
- Bahmani Sultanate (1347) ,the first Deccan sultanate, later splintering into five.
- Adil Shahis of Bijapur builders of the Gol Gumbaz (1626); Barid Shahis of Bidar.
- A north–south fault line that still echoes in the Hyderabad-Karnataka region's backwardness.
- Kannada identity persisted despite sultanate rule in the north.

Vijayanagara : Empire & the Hampi Chariot

Hampi Chariot

- 1336 :founded by Harihara & Bukka (Sangama dynasty) on the Tungabhadra.
- Krishnadevaraya (1509–29) : The empire's golden age; a Kannada-Telugu cultural synthesis.
- 1565 : defeat at Talikota ends Vijayanagara's sway; Hampi is sacked.
- Hampi's ruins (UNESCO) : The stone chariot & musical pillars of the Vittala temple.
- Its collapse opened space for the Wodeyars, sultans and, later, Hyder Ali.

Wodeyar I : A Dynasty Under Vijayanagara's Wing

1399 :Yaduraya Wodeyar establishes the Wodeyar line at Mysuru, granted the region as Vijayanagara feudatories.

- For nearly two centuries the Wodeyars rule Mysuru as loyal vassals of Vijayanagara.
- The dynasty provides continuity , the same family still presides over Mysuru today.
- Mysuru emerges as a stable agrarian principality in the south.
- Set against the concurrent Vijayanagara empire.

Wodeyar II : Asserting Independence

After Talikota, the Wodeyars step out of Vijayanagara's shadow and build an independent Mysuru kingdom.

- Raja Wodeyar (1578–1617) captures Srirangapatna and shifts the seat of power.
- Chikka Devaraja Wodeyar (1673–1704) : Administrative, revenue & territorial consolidation.
- Kantheerava Narasaraja I : A warrior king who minted the celebrated 'Kantheerava fanam' coinage.
- A Hindu principality coexisting with the Bijapur & Mysore sultanates around it.

Hyder Ali & Tipu Sultan : Mysore Resists

Gumbaz

- Hyder Ali (1761–82) : Soldier-king who made Mysore a modern military power.
- Tipu Sultan (1782–99) : Rockets, trade & diplomacy.
- Four Anglo-Mysore Wars (1767–1799) against the British East India Company.
- 1799 : Fall of Srirangapatna; Tipu dies defending the fort.
- The British restore the Wodeyars as a subsidiary princely state.

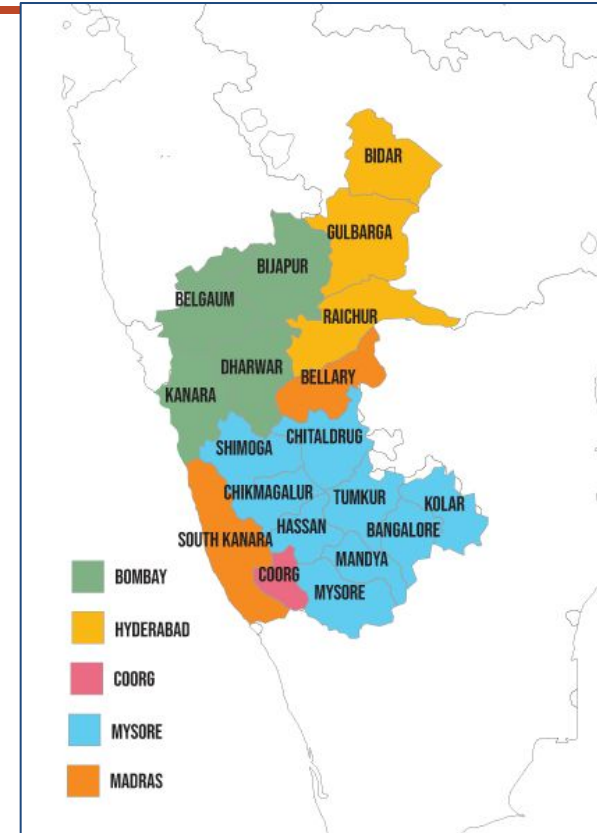

Wodeyar III : Restoration & the Model State

Mysore Palace

- 1881 'Rendition' : Chamaraja Wadiyar X regains the reins of administration.
- Krishnaraja Wadiyar IV (1894–1940) : A progressive 'model state': hydro-power (Shivanasamudra), universities, industry.
- Mysuru pioneered modern administration, education & industrialisation in princely India.

Independence — One language, five Fragments

Making of Karnataka

Flag of Karnataka

- Kannada speakers were split across Mysore State, Bombay Presidency (Bombay-Karnataka), Hyderabad State (Hyderabad-Karnataka), Madras Presidency & Coorg.
- This fragmentation fuelled the Karnataka Ekikarana (unification) movement.
- Aluru Venkata Rao , 'Karnataka Kulapurohita' , led the cultural argument for one state.
- Linguistic states became national policy after 1956 , Karnataka was among the first big mergers.

One Karnataka : The States Reorganisation

1 November 1956 : the States Reorganisation Act merges the Kannada-speaking territories into a unified Mysore State.

- Mysore State absorbed Bombay-Karnataka, Hyderabad-Karnataka, parts of Madras (incl. Kolar) and Coorg.
- 1 November is celebrated as Karnataka Rajyotsava (state formation day).
- Unification consolidated Kannada identity and created the modern state's six-region geography.
- Regional imbalances inherited from the merger remain a live political issue to this day.

Mysore to Karnataka : The Renaming

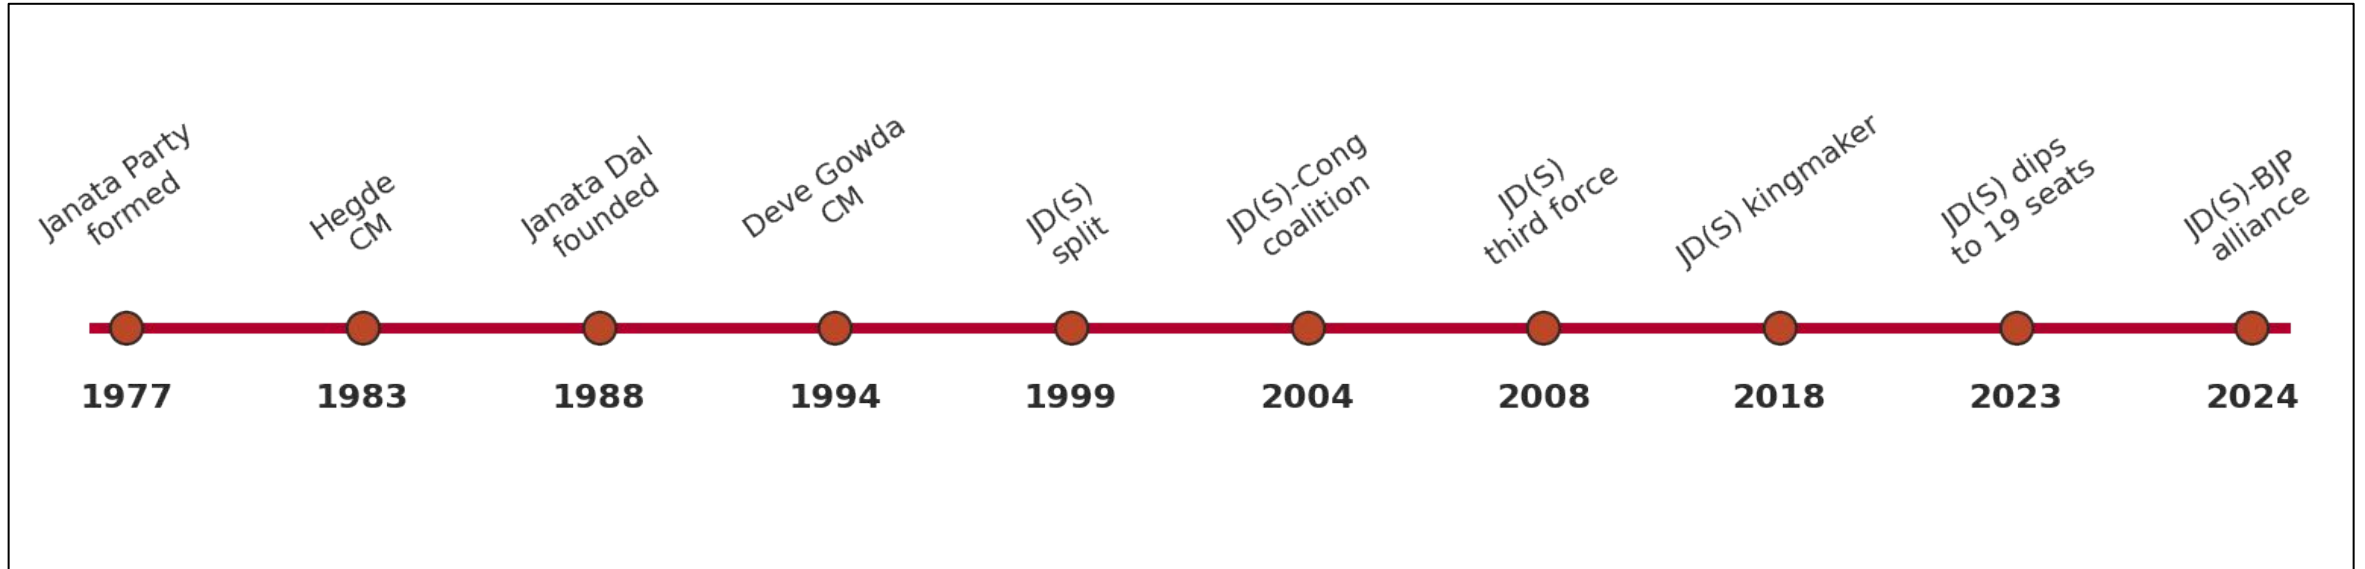

1973 : Under Chief Minister D. Devaraj Urs, Mysore State is officially renamed 'Karnataka'.

- The name change recognised that the state was more than the old Mysuru kingdom , it encompassed all Kannada regions.
- Devaraj Urs (1972–77) , a social-justice reformer: land reforms & backward-class uplift.
- Symbolic completion of the Ekikarana movement's cultural project.

The Congress era

- 1952–1983 : Congress dominated Karnataka's first three decades.
- Chief ministers : K. Chengalaraya Reddy, Kengal Hanumanthaiah S. Nijalingappa, D. Devaraj Urs.
- Devaraj Urs (1972–77) : land reforms & 'backward classes' mobilisation that reshaped Karnataka's social coalition.
- 1977–78 : President's under the Emergency's anti-Congress wave.
- The Congress era laid the caste-based social coalitions that still structure Karnataka politics.
- SR Bommai case (1994)

Evolution of the Janata Dal : Timeline

- The Janata Parivar gave Karnataka the Hegde and Deve Gowda governments; its 1999 split created the JD(S), now a Vokkaliga-anchored third force.

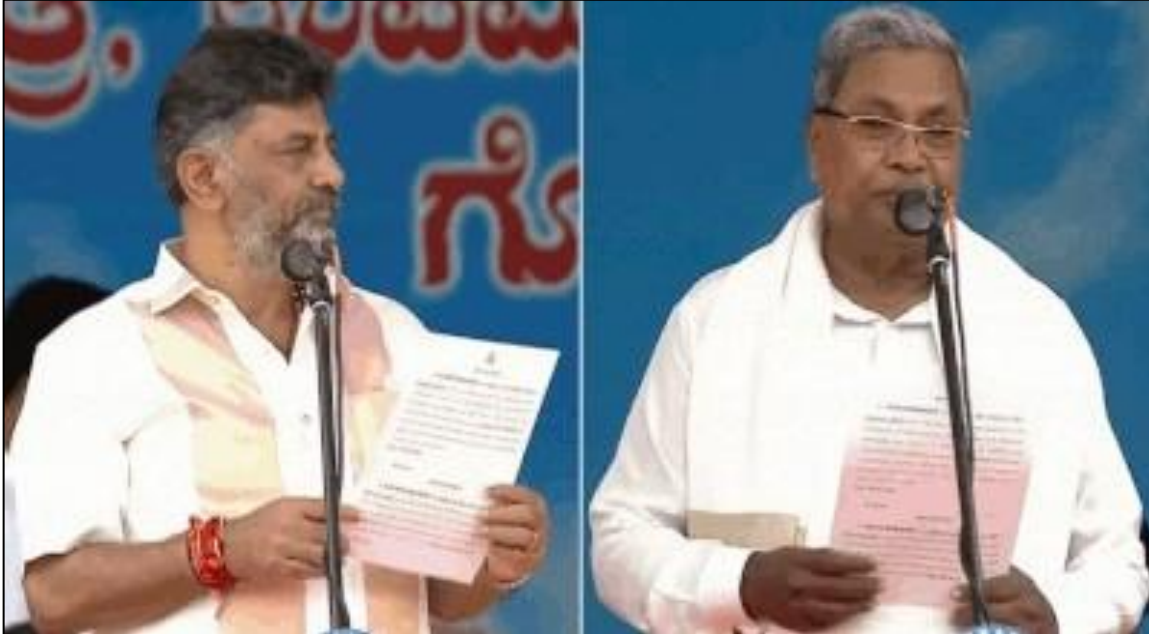

Siddaramaiah & the Caste Survey

- The Socio-Economic & Education Survey ('caste census') was launched in 2015 during Siddaramaiah's first term , ₹160 cr, 1.6 lakh surveyors, 1.35 crore households.
- Submitted 2024–25 by the Backward Classes Commission (Hegde, then Naik).
- Headline findings : Muslims ~14% (largest community), Veerashaiva-Lingayats ~11%, Vokkaligas ~10%, Kurubas ~8%; backward classes ≈ 70%.
- Recommendation : Raise backward-class reservation from 32% to ~51%.
- Politically explosive : Dominant Lingayat & Vokkaliga communities are wary; a defining issue heading into 2028.

The Rise of the BJP in Karnataka

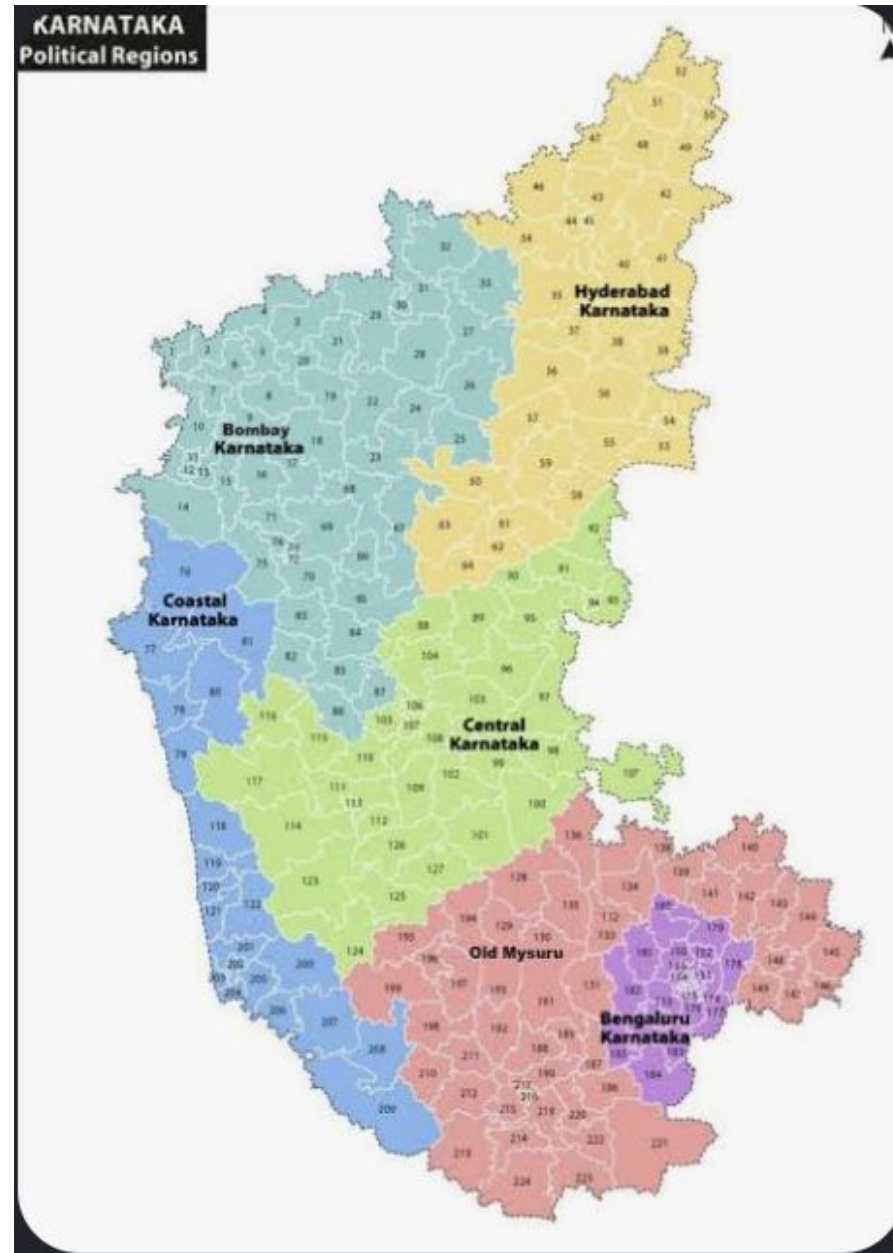

- 2008 : Yediyurappa leads the BJP to its first southern state government.
- 2012 : Yediyurappa left the BJP.
- 2014 & 2019 : Modi wave : BJP swept 17, then 25 of 28 Lok Sabha seats (51.4% vote share in 2019).
- 2018 : Single-largest party (104 seats) but a JD(S)–Congress coalition kept it out; it toppled the government in 2019.
- 2019–23 : Yediyurappa and then Basavaraj Bommai lead the government.
- Core base : Lingayats + urban middle class + Hindutva vote; lost 2023 to Congress's welfare pitch.

Siddaramaiah–DKS : A dual power structure

- 2023 : Congress wins 135/224 seats on the five-guarantee promise.
- Siddaramaiah (CM) : Kuruba/AHINDA base, the state's fiscal manager.
- D.K. Shivakumar (DyCM & KPCC president) : Vokkaliga muscle & organisational grip.
- Dual leadership balances the AHINDA and Vokkaliga blocs : and carries built-in succession tension.
- D.K. Shivakumar from June 2026 is the CM of Karnataka

COASTAL KARNATAKA

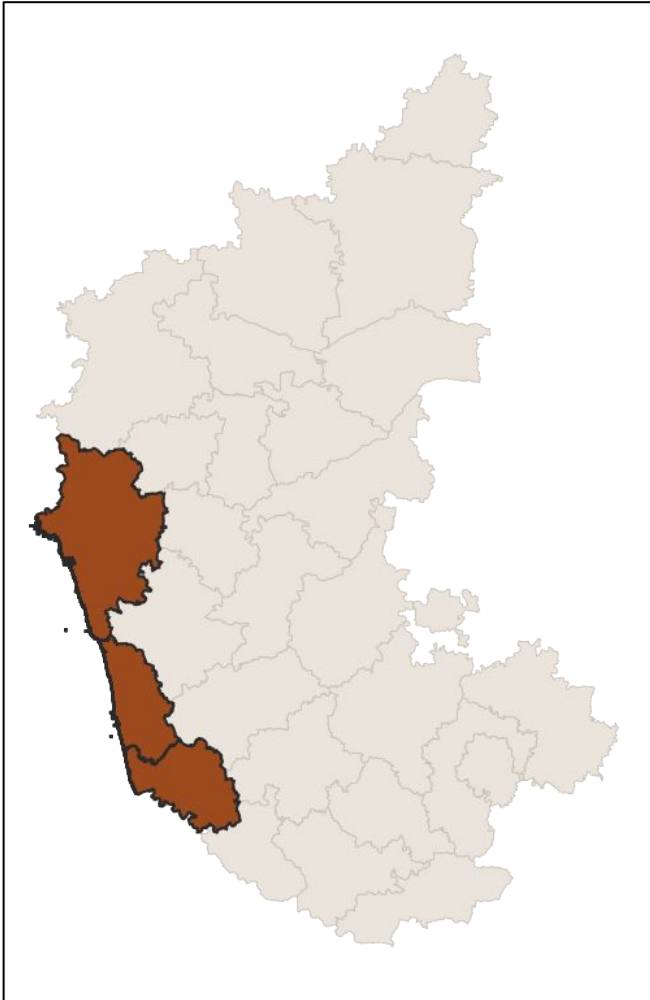

High-development coast & Hindutva stronghold

- Districts: Dakshina Kannada, Udupi, Uttara Kannada
- High literacy, HDI & a strong banking/education culture
- Tulu, Konkani & Beary , a multi-religious, multi-lingual mix
- Tulu identity & periodic statehood assertions

Overlapping structures

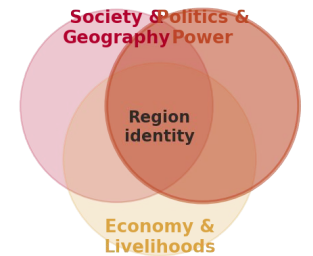

Politics

COASTAL KARNATAKA

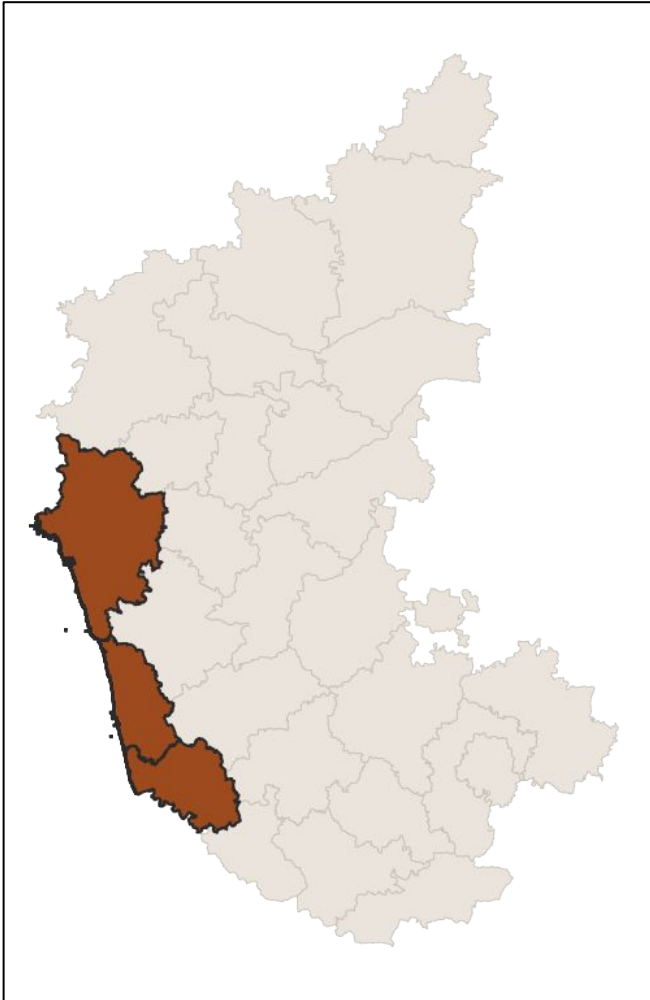

High-development coast & Hindutva stronghold

- BJP swept all three coastal Lok Sabha seats in 2024 by record margins
- Dense RSS–Hindutva base; communal polarisation
- Congress confined to a handful of seats; coastal MLAs influential
- Mathas & religious institutions overlap with politics

Overlapping structures

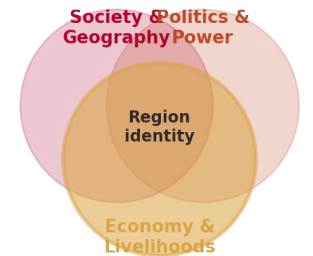

Economics

COASTAL KARNATAKA

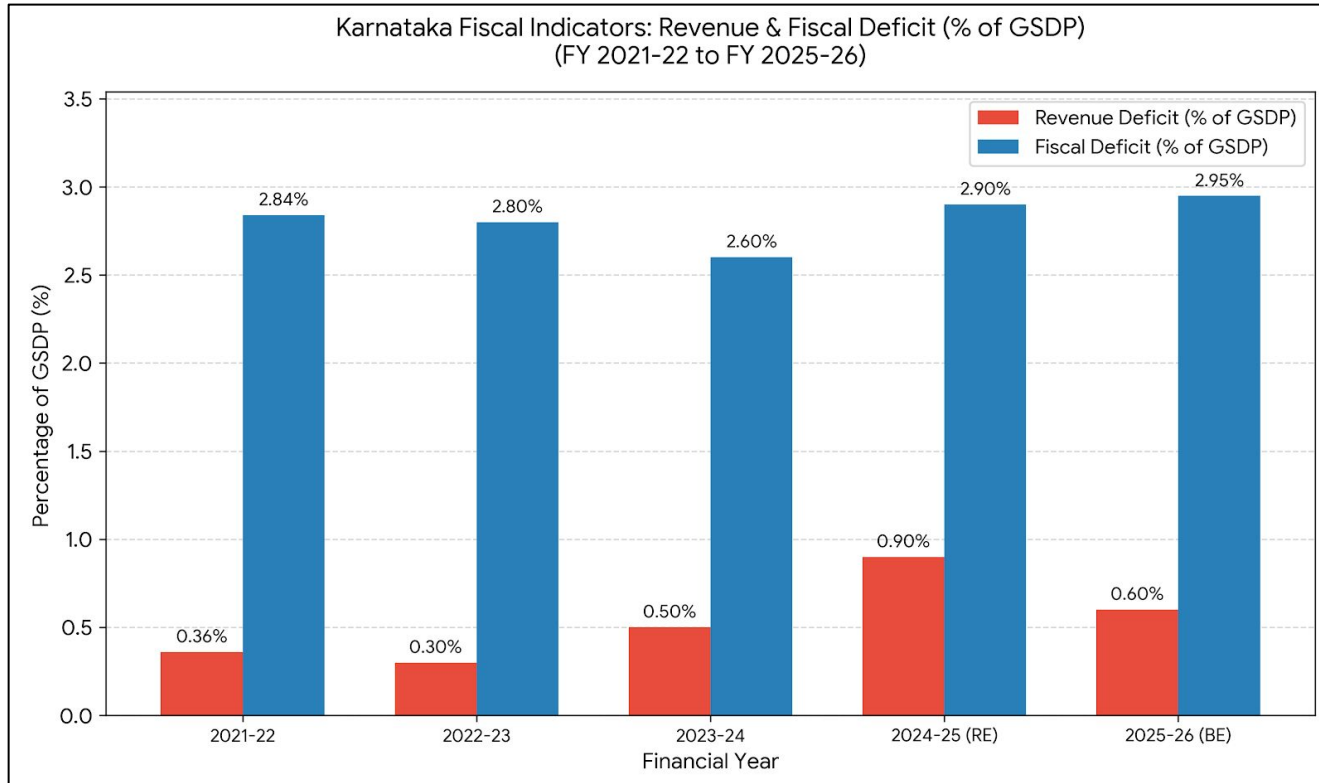

High-development coast & Hindutva stronghold

- New Mangalore & Karwar ports; SEZs, refineries & petrochemicals
- Banking & education hubs (Manipal, Mangaluru)
- Tourism, fisheries, cashew & coastal industries
- High remittance & service-sector economy

Overlapping structures

The State's Fiscal Health

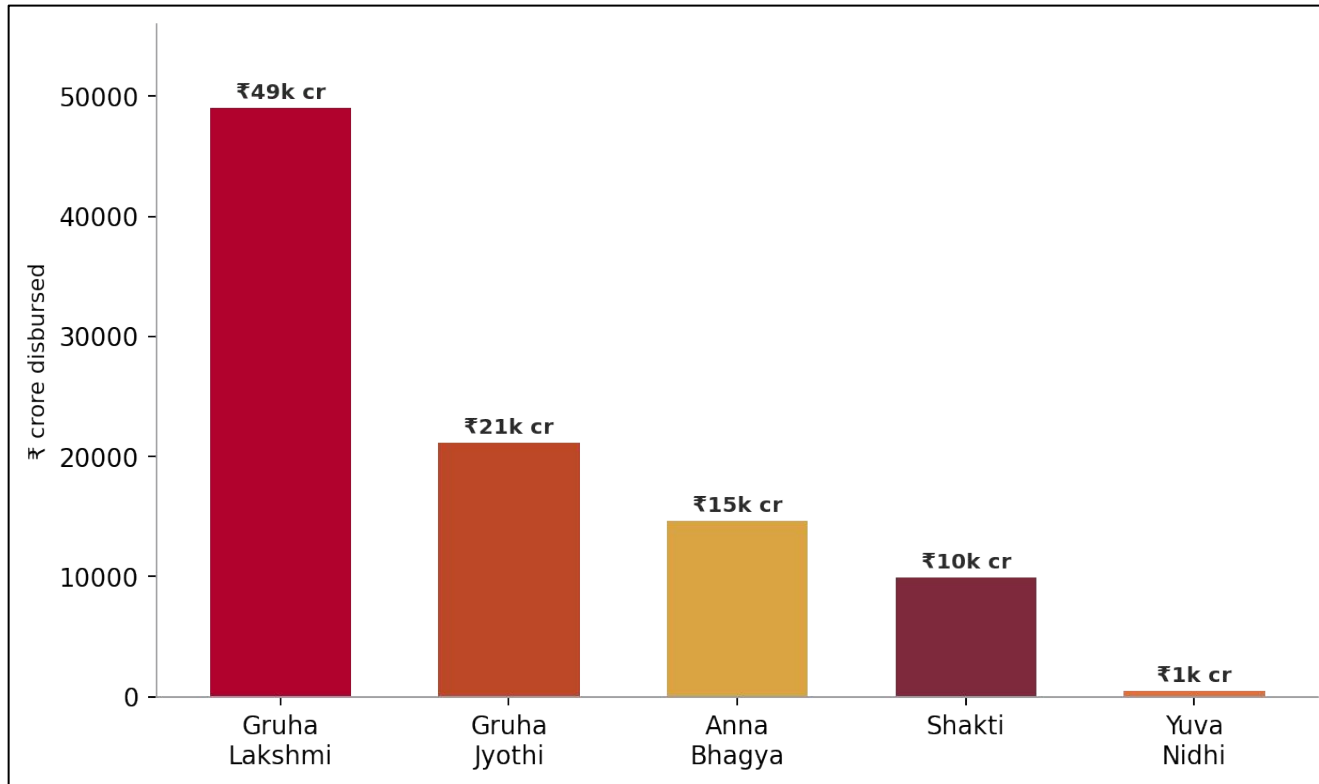

- GSDP growing at 8.1% : among India's fastest large states.
- Outstanding liabilities $\approx$ 25% of GSDP (₹8.2 lakh crore by 2025-26).
- Fiscal deficit $\sim$ 2.97% of GSDP (2024-25 actuals) : within the 3% FRBM ceiling.
- Revenue deficit narrowing to $\sim$ 0.7% of GSDP.
- Own tax revenue strong (₹1.77 lakh crore i.e 6.7% of GSDP) but guarantee schemes raise revenue expenditure.

Fiscal Stress Points

- Guarantee schemes cost ~₹52,500 crore in 2024-25 alone i.e ~15% of revenue expenditure.
- Debt is nearing the FRBM sustainability threshold (~25% of GSDP).
- Revenue deficit persists because borrowing is financing welfare commitments.
- Central devolution & GST compensation disputes strain state finances.
- Trade-off is welfare entitlements vs capital (infrastructure) spending.

Flagship policies : The Five Guarantees

- Gruha Lakshmi : ₹2,000/month to 1.23+ crore women heads of family.
- Gruha Jyothi : free power up to 200 units (1.61 crore households).
- Anna Bhagya : 10 kg rice/month (4.43 crore beneficiaries).
- Shakti : Free bus travel for women (500 crore+ tickets issued).
- Yuva Nidhi : ₹3,000/₹1,500 monthly to unemployed graduates/diploma holders.

Costs & critiques of the guarantees

- Fiscal sustainability : Near-universal entitlements are hard to roll back.
- Targeting & leakage : Universal design vs means-testing debates.
- Crowding-out : Capital expenditure & core services compete with subsidies.
- Electoral lock-in : Guarantees have become a political floor no party can remove.
- Yet measurable impact : Higher women's mobility, nutrition & savings reported in surveys.

Health

Antenatal care: 82.4% of mothers received an antenatal check-up in the first trimester, compared with 71.0% in NFHS-5.

Four or more ANC visits: 84.5% of mothers received at least four antenatal check-ups, compared with 70.9% previously.

Institutional births: 98.7% of births occurred in health institutions, compared with 97.0% in NFHS-5.

Skilled birth attendance: 96.6% of births were attended by skilled health personnel, compared with 93.8% in NFHS-5.

Postnatal care: 93.6% of mothers received postnatal care within two days of delivery, compared with 87.4% in NFHS-5.

Full immunisation: 90.2% of children aged 12–23 months were fully vaccinated, compared with 84.3% in NFHS-5.

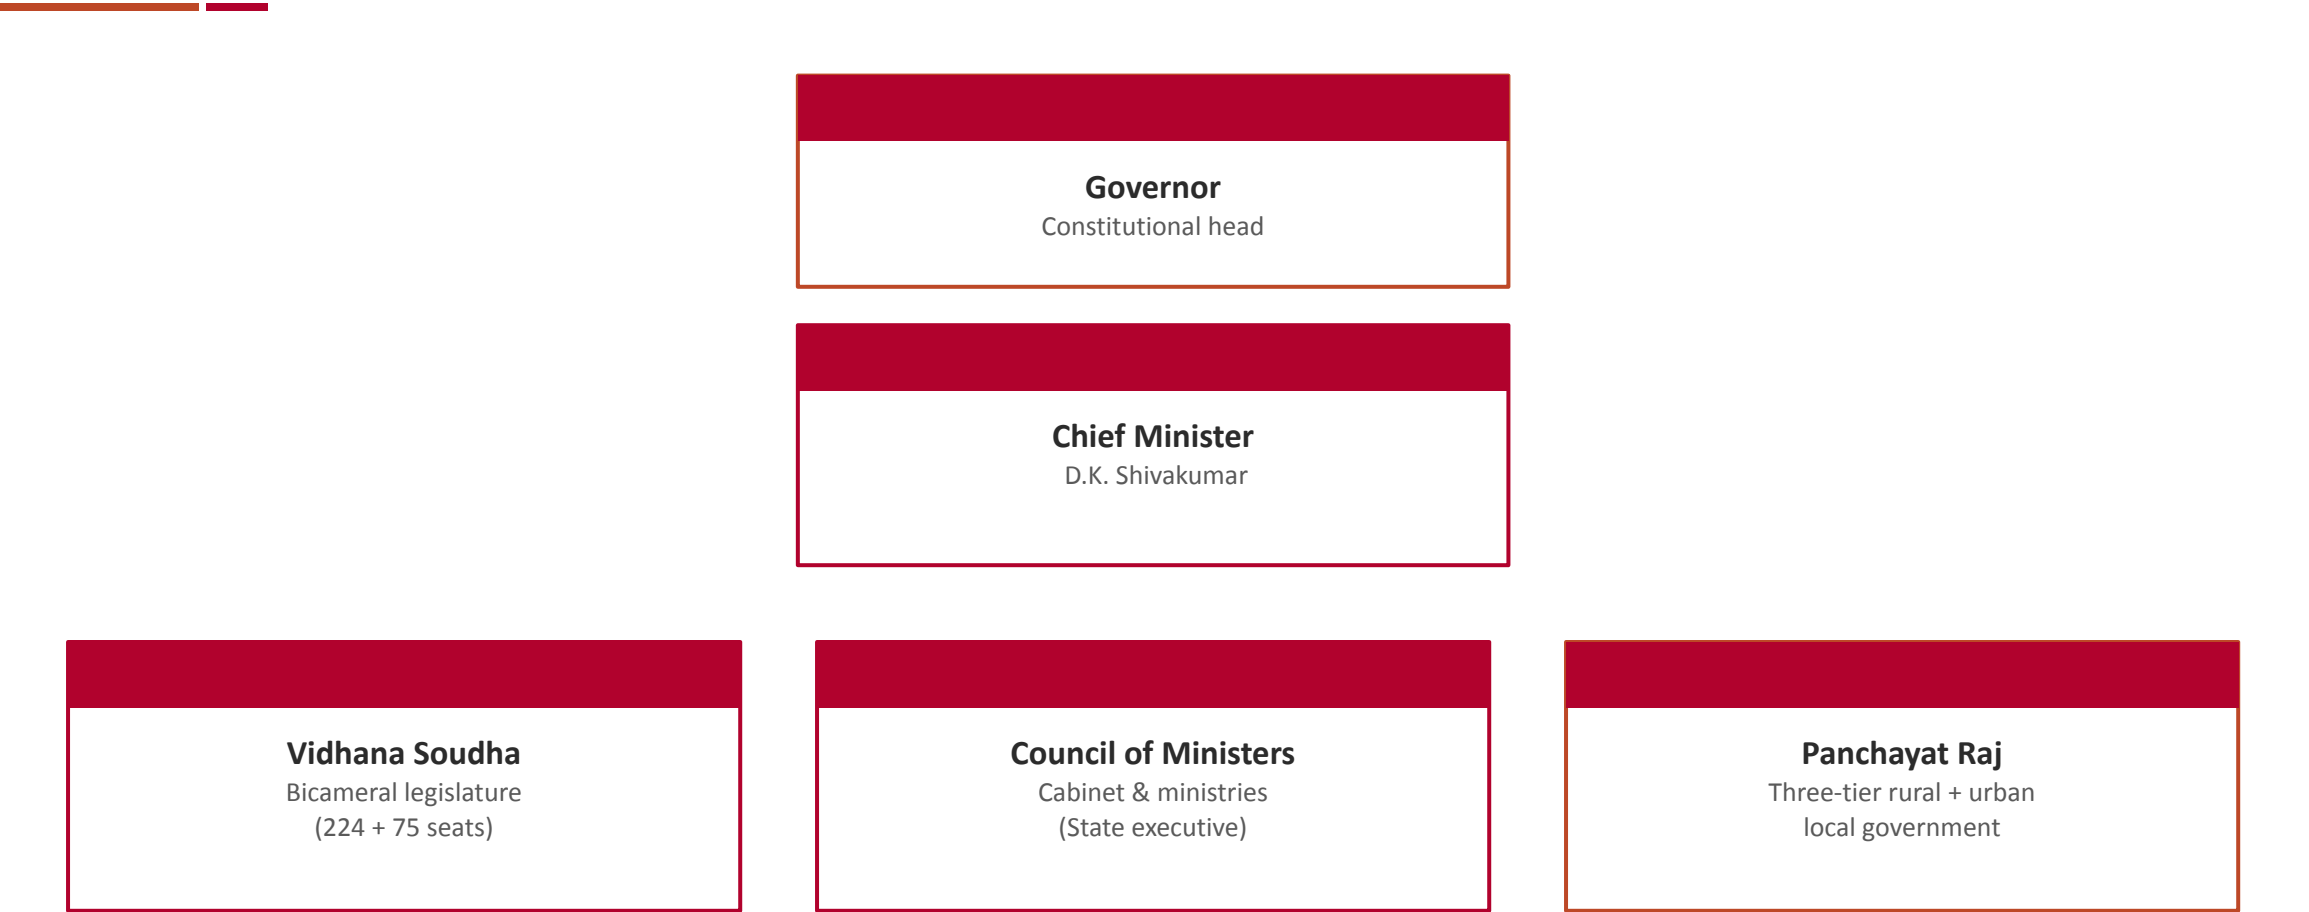

Child nutrition: 26.5% of children under five were stunted in Karnataka in NFHS-6 (2023–24). This indicates that more than one in four children under five were affected by stunting.

Education

- School attendance: 77.8% of females aged 6+ had ever attended school, up from 73.0% in NFHS-5.
- Women's educational attainment: 57.6% of women aged 15–49 had 10+ years of schooling, compared with 50.2% earlier.
- Men's educational attainment: 63.0% of men aged 15–49 had 10+ years of schooling, up from 56.5%.
- Pre-school participation: 50.7% of children aged 2–4 were attending pre-school, compared with 44.5% in NFHS-5.
- Women's digital access: Internet use among women aged 15–49 increased sharply from 35.0% to 57.9%.
- Men's digital access: Internet use among men aged 15–49 increased from 56.3% to 84.3%.

Key takeaway: Karnataka shows improvement in both educational attainment and digital access, but a gender gap in internet use and educational attainment remains.

Governance Fault Lines

- Sidda–DKS friction : the dual-leadership arrangement breeds succession rivalry.
- Coalition management : JD(S) & independent MLAs as swing factors.
- Bureaucratic capacity vs the scale of welfare delivery (DBT, Seva Sindhu).
- Centre–state tension : devolution, GST and flagship-scheme contestation.
- Regional imbalance : north Karnataka's persistent grievance over neglect.

What India can learn from Karnataka

Welfare at scale

- the five guarantees show both the electoral payoff and the fiscal cost of universal entitlements.

Caste data & social justice

- the survey opens a national conversation on evidence-based reservation.

Regional federalism

- Karnataka's six-region structure is a model of managing intra-state diversity.

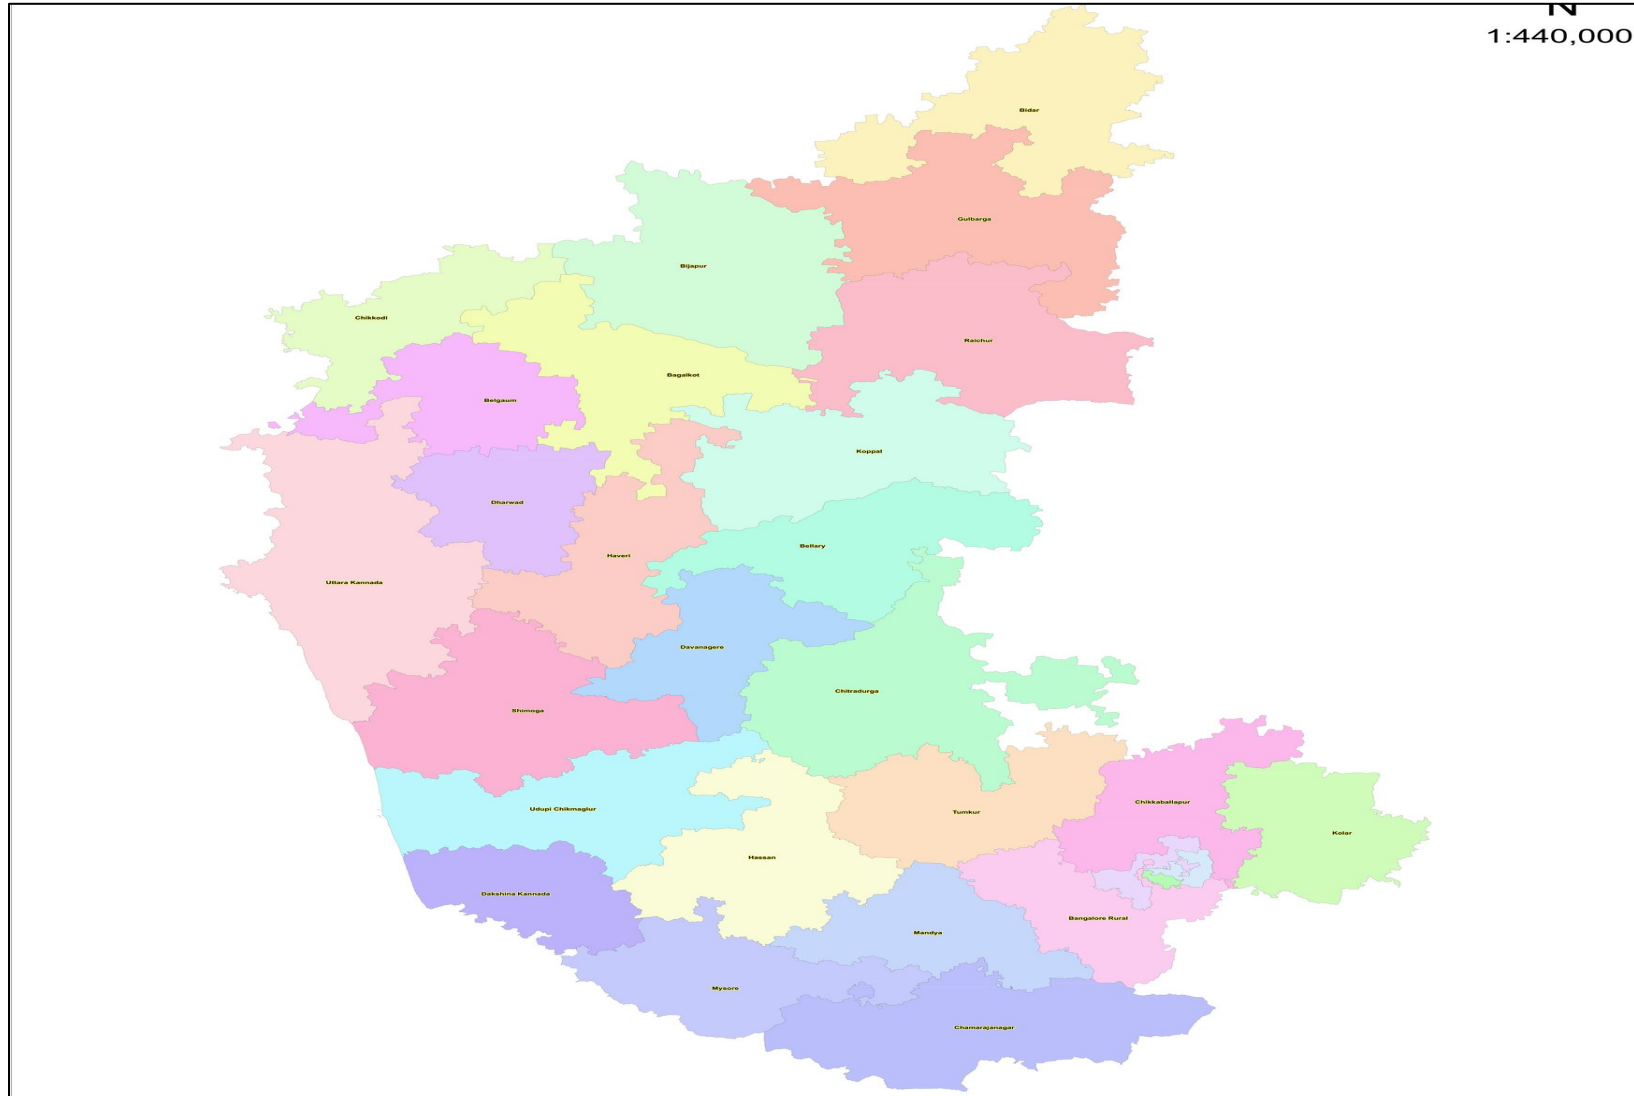

Dual leadership

- balancing caste blocs via a CM–Dy CM formula, and its risks.

Bengaluru Model

- over burdened civic infra supporting start up capital.

Similarities & divergence

Similarities

- All three parties now run welfare heavy campaigns and court Lingayat & Vokkaliga blocs.
- All converge on caste-coalition engineering despite different ideological labels.

Divergence

- Congress : AHINDA (minorities-backward-Dalit) + urban secular pitch.
- BJP : Lingayat + Hindutva + urban middle class; strongest on the coast & cities.
- JD(S) : Vokkaliga agrarian base of the Deve Gowda family; kingmaker niche.

The eve of the 2028 Vidhan Sabha

- Incumbency test : Can Congress convert its 2023 sweep into re-election against anti-incumbency?
- BJP–JD(S) alliance : A consolidated challenger now, reversing the 2024 Lok Sabha split.
- The guarantee bill : Fiscal stress vs the schemes' popularity among women & youth.
- Caste-survey fallout : Reservation politics could realign the Lingayat/Vokkaliga vote.
- Swing regions : Kalyana Karnataka (Congress), Coastal & Bengaluru (BJP), Old Mysore (three-way).

Concluding remarks

Karnataka is best read region by region, six overlapping Society–Polity–Economy zones, not one monolith.

Its politics is a long inheritance: dynasty, unification and caste coalitions still set today's battlegrounds.

The 2023 mandate was a bet on welfare; its fiscal bill is now the central question.

Heading into 2028, the fights are over entitlements, caste data and the region-by-region swing vote.

Thank you!
